1 Behold the wonders of this world
That take our breath away“
The snowcapped peaks by light unfurled
With ev'ry dawning day.
What strange, inspiring fossils lie
Deep in our ancient land
That point to wisdom, pow'r, and time
Beyond the reach of man.

2 The mysteries of particles,
Of light and energy,
Which now appear illogical,
Command humility.
Before the vast, unknown expanse
Of stars and galaxies,
We question our significance
And if our Maker sees.

C Chorus:
Oh, the majesty,
Lord, Your majesty!
With the things of the earth
We will sing of Your worth,
Of Your majesty.

3 While mysteries below, above,
Can point to pow'r divine,
They cannot speak of God's great love
Or merciful designs.
The Scriptures give us certainty
Of God's redeeming plan“

That, clothed in frail humanity,
He ransomed fallen man.

4 The majesty and awe that live
In each created thing
Are only but derivative
Of Christ, their Makerâ€™King.
On all who trust in God the Word
This privilege is placedâ€™
To climb the mountain of the Lord
And marvel at His grace.
