1 My thoughts rise against me, What if they all see
Who I am, will they run?
So I am in hiding, In darkness abiding,
Covered in Sunday best.
My insecurities paralyze me;
I know the gospel yet I am lonely.

2 My sins rose against Him, My secret life has been Placed upon Christ the Lamb.
With my reputation He bore my rejection,
Perfect love overcame.
Though I was hidden well Jesus found me.
Acceptance and eager love now surround me.

C Chorus:
Hidden in Christ, hidden above
Where I am known yet I am loved.
I am set free from shame,
He has called me by name.
Hidden in Christ I now have life.

3 Disguises continue, But what if we all knew
Who we are in the Lord?
We'd come out of hiding, Acceptance providing,
Perfect love casts out fear.
This is our true self now - we are treasured,
So let us show this grace without measure.
