CCLI Song # 7120112

1 Verse 1:
I've climbed the mountain, I've scaled its height,
I've seen the lands that lie ahead-
Where endless day has banished night
And death may never tread.
There weary pilgrims find a home
Of endless joy and rest
And all shall gather 'round the throne,
The Son of God to bless.

C Chorus:
Heaven, heaven
To heaven I cast my gaze.
Heaven, yes heaven
Will lead through stormy days.

2 Verse 2:
One look at this, the journey's end,
Will strengthen feeble knees,
Deliver from discouragement
And bring a fearless peace.
Though I have seen this paradise,
I often look behind,
To present pain and darkened skies,
That capture heart and mind.
